ICLL Director's Prefatory Note

Hon. Professor Glen Phillips, Edith Cowan University

Volume 8, Issue 1 (2017) of Landscapes, "Landscape: Heritage," has been a wonderful work of scholarship by editor Dr Drew Hubbell, with support from new member of the Editorial Board, Dr David Gray of Dalarna University in Sweden. Congratulations to all the manifold contributors of articles, images poetry and fiction for this issue, and thanks to the many esteemed scholars who have refereed the chosen submissions.

This issue is one of the largest we have so far published and reflects very clearly the growing eminence of our journal on the Internet since its pioneering creation as a fully refereed journal so many years ago. Our many past editors are due thanks for working so zealously to extend its readership all around the globe from its modest origins at Edith Cowan University in the School of Arts and Humanities. Already we have received submissions for Volume 9, to be commenced November 2018.

I trust the current issue will provide absorbing and rewarding reading for all our regular subscribers to Landscapes.
