Taking references beyond your PC: Collaborating with local and internationally dispersed colleagues to write and publish a paper

Agnes Noronha
Edith Cowan University

Gordon McIntyre
Edith Cowan University

Jennifer Moore
Edith Cowan University

Maureen Couacaud
Edith Cowan University

Follow this and additional works at: https://ro.ecu.edu.au/ecuposters

Part of the Library and Information Science Commons

This poster was presented at ECUlture 2011, 9th-10th November, 2011, Edith Cowan University, Perth, Western Australia.

Recommended Citation

Noronha, Agnes; McIntyre, Gordon; Moore, Jennifer; and Couacaud, Maureen, "Taking references beyond your PC: Collaborating with local and internationally dispersed colleagues to write and publish a paper" (2011). ECU Posters.
https://ro.ecu.edu.au/ecuposters/2

This Book is posted at Research Online.
https://ro.ecu.edu.au/ecuposters/2
Taking references beyond your PC

Collaborating with local and internationally dispersed colleagues to write and publish a paper

1. Find References
   - Library catalogues
   - Library One Search
   - Journal databases
   - Google Scholar

2. Drop and Store References in EndNote or RefWorks
   - Type in references
   - Automatic export from library databases, Library One Search or Google Scholar
   - Import using PDF metadata
   - Export to RefWorks from a shared folder

3. Organise References into Meaningful Groups
   - EndNote or EndNote
   - groups or smart groups
   - for RefWorks
   - References can be sorted by date, author or title

4. Share References with Colleagues
   - References can be exchanged with colleagues around the world, using EndNote or RefWorks
   - Use EndNote to share groups, access changes instantly online
   - Use RefWorks to email a URL to a shared folder
   - Use RefWorks to email a compressed version of libraries or selected references
   - RefWorks can provide updates to shared references via an RSS feed

5. Complete the Paper
   - references shared in the cloud
   - journal referencing style selected
   - paper completed collaboratively
   - submitted to publisher