Turbine

Renee Schipp

Follow this and additional works at: https://ro.ecu.edu.au/landscapes

Part of the Poetry Commons

Recommended Citation

This Poetry is posted at Research Online.
Turbine by Renee Schipp

Jurien Bay

You thought they were fans to keep the sheep cool
and I laughed,
thinking of their fat woolly coats, imagining a world where we cared
that much.

Still,
the ‘fans’ stand with
tall, slim bodies,
their three arms mirroring the arc of a dancer’s
graceful motion.
Green hill,
blue sky:-
a child’s landscape,
an army of tall, white
toys.

Renee Pettitt-Schipp is an award winning teacher of Sustainability, presently teaching English to refugee students on Christmas Island. Renee uses her work to explore the relationship between hope and connection.